

Township Right-of-Way Permit Application

Application Procedure

1. Apply for your Building and/or Site Development Permit at the Planning, Building and Development (PB&D) Department. You cannot submit your application to the highway commissioner without a building or site development application number.
2. PB&D counter staff will write the Building and/or Site Development Permit application number on the application. You will have to complete and sign the 'applicant' portion of your application before submitting it to the highway commissioner. The table below lists the contact information of each township highway commissioner. You are responsible for submitting your application to the highway commissioner.
3. After you submit the application, the highway commissioner will complete his or her portion of the application and fax it, copied onto highway commission letterhead, to the PB&D Department.

Please supply all the information requested on the application. If the application is incomplete, this may delay the processing of your permit.
