London Pool on Display in Lake County

Come see a stunning 600-pound stainless steel painting titled "London Pool" on display at the Lake County Administrative Complex in Waukegan. This work has been generously loaned to the County by the National Museum of the American Sailor.

Created by Lake County artist Buell Mullen, she developed a process of painting on metal surfaces using etching and acid to create this work, which shows a view of the United States Navy in London. Do not miss the chance to see this remarkable work of art at 18 N. County St., Waukegan.
