

About Ruprecht

Ruprecht is a solutions-driven meat processor and food manufacturer serving both domestic and international customers in the foodservice and retail sectors. Established in 1860, Ruprecht is currently the oldest operating beef processor in the Chicago area. Over the last 10 years, Ruprecht has experienced rapid expansion and growth due to its investment in Research and Development. Today, these customers include well-known independent restaurants, local and national chains, national and international distributors, and retail supermarkets and wholesale clubs.
